| Describe a risk you took that you do not regret.

At a typical situation i confessed about my relationship with my amma...knowing that how they will react...this made lot of changes in me...and made me to know not only about my parents but also my surroundings people...then i got the confidence about my relationship till then i got always a guilt ...but now even people accepting or not i confessed it gives me tiny relief... Being in relationship by the disability girl is really illegal
